Additional Information

The Transportation Survey has been closed. There were a total of 283 responses, well short of the target of 1,000. Suggestions for future success are welcome, as additional attempts to gather data will be made.

Even with a small sample size, two points stuck out:

Respondents were asked if they are a senior, veteran, individual with a disability, or had income below the federal poverty level, with an option to select "none of these statements apply". This indicates current eligibility for agency services—with those answering "none of these statements apply" termed non-eligible.

36.1% of non-eligible respondents stated they would use public transportation if it became available to them, while 46.0% of eligible respondents stated the same.

23.5% of non-eligible respondents stated that no agency transportation was available in their area, while 21.2% of eligible respondents stated the same.
